MANY STATE CASES.

To Be Taken Up at Present Term of Washington County Court.

State cases in the present term of Washington county court fill a larger place on the calendar than ever before, according to the list which State Attorney J. Ward Carver has entered. Cases against alleged violators of the liquor statutes crowd the slate of state cases, a condition partly due to the inquisitorial proceedings which the state's attorney conducted in Barre and Montpelier during the winter. There are thirty-one defendants in liquor cases from Barre alone, Montpelier following with twenty-four. Included in the completed list are a number of old state cases which have appeared in other term dockets. Not within the memory of the oldest member of the county bar, it is said, has any term of county court been marked by so many state cases.

Charged with selling, the following Barre defendants appear on the list:

Josephine Locasso, Teresa Canonica, Emma Scamporrino, Paulina Cerasoli, Manuel Vila, Mary Quattrone, John Bessi, Luigi Cerasoli, Jennie Rizzi, Babe Ringer, Mrs. Lastra Labrana, Pister Concha, Christina McLeod, C. H. Kendrick, Maria Serafino, Lazarino Berini, Charles Zamboni, Clementina Abbiati, Martin McMahon, Vera Granai, Giuseppe Frasinelli, Gaetano Cerasoli, Teresa Prattini, Carletta Casabella, Catherine Fumagalli, Della Green, Rosa Truica, Mrs. M. Valentine, Ernest Juries, H. M. DeCelle, G. Mazzi, James Enright. Charges of keeping are preferred against Mrs. Prattini and DeCelle is charged with furnishing.

Montpelier defendants in selling cases are as follows: Esther Dominioni, Cleof Croci, John Aja, Irene Aja, Clementina Bianchi, Nick Mazzoni, Louis Pellini, Joe Bianchi, Mrs. Joe Bianchi (Taplin street), Angelo Lamperti, Mrs. Angelo Lamperti, Engarica Aja, Jose Angel, Aja, Giovanni Sain, Palmero Sain, Manuel Lastra, Garcia Lastra, Salvatore Rochelle, Joe Bianchi, (River street), Mrs. Joe Bianchi (River street), Vittoria Molinari, Emilio Molinari, Nick Palumba, Mary Palumba.

F. Villa, C. Gomez, G. Gomez and Batista Camoli of West Berlin and Leander Kirby of Waterbury are also defendants in selling cases. Louis Pochetti of Northfield is charged with keeping intoxicating liquor illegally.

Of the thirty-one remaining cases, several will be recalled as having caused more or less stir in localities where the offenses are alleged to have been committed and where charges were first pressed: State vs. Vincenzo Scali, assault; state vs. Henry Colombo, rape; state vs. Arthur Densmore, assault; state vs. John Albin, intoxication; state vs. Clarence Godall, lewdness; state vs.

RANDOLPH.

William Mann Died Sunday Morning
After Long Period of Ill Health.

The death of William Mann occurred on Sunday morning after an illness of many months, following a feeble condition of much longer time. Mr. Mann was one of our oldest inhabitants, having lived here for a long term of years. Being of a genial kindly disposition, he was a favorite in town, and he had many friends, who were always glad to meet and greet him. For years he was a traveling man on the road, and here, too, he gained many friends. He was one of the oldest members of Phoenix lodge, No. 28, F. & A. M., and the oldest member of the chapter of Eastern Star, in both of which organizations, he was, as long as his health would permit, much interested. He was one of the most active and interested members of the old Christian church, and when the union of the same with the Congregational was made, he still remained a member and was always in his place at church as long as his strength would permit. Mr. Mann is survived by his wife and one son, George Mann, of Quebec, who arrived here on Friday night.

Mrs. B. G. Goodwin left on Saturday for Concord, N. H., for a short stay with friends.

Miss Alice Pervier has come from Montpelier to be the trimmer in the W. R. Messer millinery store for the coming spring season.

Rev. Hoyt of Randolph Center, occupied the pulpit of the Federated church on Sunday morning, when he gave an excellent sermon.

The assembly met in DuBois & Gay's hall on Thursday night with an attendance of about 35 couples, who danced to the music of four pieces of the music hall orchestra and afterward were treated to a lunch. The evening was one of the most enjoyable of the season.

Miss Florence Howe, head nurse at the sanatorium, gave an interesting talk before "The Bethany Girls" at the Parish house on Thursday night, "A Girl's Habits."

Miss Mildred Hutchins, a student at Simmons college in Boston, is a guest of her mother for the Easter vacation.

News has been received of the nine weeks' illness of Mrs. S. N. Gould, who is passing the winter with her son, Almer Bagley, at Suncook, N. H. Mrs. Gould is now improving from a serious illness, and a speedy recovery is expected.

Newell Bickford has left his farm in the care of his brother, and with his wife has started for Ladora, Iowa, making the first stop at New Haven, Conn., and going from there to White Plains, N. Y., where Mrs. Bickford's mother, Mrs. S. A. Davis, is living at present.

Mrs. J. M. Thompson and daughter, Miss Beatrice, of Montpelier are at the home of Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Foster, for a short vacation.

A daughter was born on Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Connor of this place. Mrs. Pearl Chamberlin of Montpelier has again come to pass several days with her mother, Mrs. Rose Coolidge.

Miss Cora Osgood, who is attending school at Northfield, Mass., arrived home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Buck and their daughter, Iris Buck, left on Saturday for Chelsea to visit Mr. Buck's brother and family, and after a few days will go on to Lebanon, N. H., for a short stay with Mr. Buck's mother.

Mrs. Jennie Smith started for Springfield, Mass., Saturday for a ten days' stay with relatives, and her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Manning, came from East Granville and took her brother, Gordon, home with her to remain during his mother's absence.

EAST BARRE.

William Francis Barnard was greeted with a good audience at the opera house last evening after a long absence. The subject of his lecture was "What Is Socialism?" Many of his convincing points brought forth bursts of applause. Comrade Barnard was scheduled to speak here Friday evening, but owing to the condition of railroad lines, his train did not get him here in time. His lecture was considered very strong in delivery and reasoning. The third lecture of the course will be delivered by Comrade Florence Watters. She comes among us highly recommended, an able exponent of the Socialist cause. She will speak in the Presbyterian church, Graniteville, on Friday evening, April 4, at 8 o'clock. The Rebekahs will give a whist party in I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday, April 2. Refreshments of ice cream and cake will be served and prizes given. Everyone cordially invited.

BUILDING GREAT SKYSCRAPERS PROVIDES MANY THRILLS FOR LYMAN H. HOWE CAMERAS.

It wasn't many years ago that people looked with amazement at the construction of a twelve-story building near this group.

You couldn't have found a man in New York at that time who even dreamed of a structure with fifty-five stories above the ground. In fact, the wise ones shook their heads when a newspaper led the march to high altitudes and built that first "skyscraper" with twelve flights of steps to its tower. "They'll come down!" declared most New Yorkers.

They've been going up ever since. The illustration printed above will give the reader an idea of how part of Greater New York's sky-line looks today. This photograph was taken a few weeks ago especially for this newspaper by Lyman H. Howe.

The noted Travel Festival man had several of his cameras follow each step in the building of the big structures that have lately been completed. The photographers had many sensational experiences in making the films from the dizzy heights. They made a reproduction of the most dangerous feats of the structural iron-workers. Local architects and builders will no doubt be especially interested in these skyscraper scenes when Mr. Howe presents them at opera house on Wednesday, April 2.—Adv.

COOPERATIVE MARKETING.

Stores Will Do Annual Business at $1,508,000—Early Difficulties Overcome.

Co-operative stores have been conducted successfully in Wisconsin for the last 30 years, but only within two years have they become at all numerous, under the excellent new law. At present there are 17 successful co-operative stores with a total membership now of about 7,500, an authorized capital stock of some $800,000, and cash capital actually paid in of around $400,000. The stores employ 150 clerks and their volume of business for 1913 will exceed $1,508,000, says Farm and Home.

All goods are sold at the same prices charged by other retailers. After setting aside interest at 5 per cent. on capital, and suitable reserves, the profits are shared as dividends upon purchases, shareholders get full dividend, which equals 5 to 10 per cent. saving, while non-members get only half dividend or none.

The early co-operative stores in Wisconsin found hard sledding because of the lack of co-operation spirit, limited capital, the collapse of the early organized farm and labor movement, lack of business knowledge and practice among the co-operators, lack of wholesale houses from which the retail co-operative stores could obtain their supplies.

All co-operative stores in America, as in England, thrive best when they adhere to the Rochdale principles.

1. Sell goods at current market prices. This prevents friction with other merchants. It avoids the "go-broke" error of selling at cost plus expense.

2. Begin small, grow slowly but surely as experience points the way and as the managers and members learn to work together.

3. Co-operation is not a new way of transacting business, but rather a different method of dividing the fruits of industry. The same principles that govern success, when acquiring profit in capitalist enterprises, apply with even greater force to the management of co-operative effort.

Officer 666.

An event of more than ordinary importance in the amusement field will occur at the opera house Thursday, April 3, when Augustin MacHugh's long anticipated play "Officer 666," will be seen for the first time in this city. New York and Chicago have stamped "Officer 666" as a success of unusual significance.

A young millionaire globe trotter returning home to find his bachelor quarters occupied by a burglar who, not satisfied with having appropriated the millionaire's name, and getting himself engaged to a pretty society girl on the strength of it, is rapidly disposing of the fine collection of paintings gathered by the aforesaid millionaire from the art centers of the world. This is the situation when the curtain goes up on the first act of "Officer 666."

How the real millionaire regains possession of his home and name and how he eventually wins the heart and hand of the sweet young thing who has plighted her troth to a member of the light fingered gentry under the impression that he was the Simon pure scion of wealth and social position, is left to the telling of the players, who people the cast of the new farce which has proven a big and popular laughing success. In working out the story of the play, the rich young man induces a policeman on his block to lend him his uniform and while he is masquerading as a copper to catch the burglar, the real officer becomes the millionaire's cook. The burglar in the meantime is allowed to continue in possession of the bachelor's quarters, but is eventually trapped and compelled to return his plunder. All these events are worked out with speed and precision during the three acts in which Mr. Augustin MacHugh, the author of "Officer 666," takes to tell the story that is chock full of surprising situations, smart chatter and snappy epigrams.—Adv.

Do Not Eat Too Much if You are Getting Near Middle Age.

In the April Woman's Home Companion appears an interesting article entitled "A Healthy Mind in a Healthy Body." Following is an extract:

"It is a well established fact that the majority of people eat too much. They take more food, especially with under-exercise, than the body can assimilate, and the result is superfluous fatty deposits. This is especially true around middle age, when the body is no longer growing, and hence does not require the amount of food it required when the process of growth as well as of waste was going on. The result is the taking on of superfluous flesh, the tendency to exercise still less, degeneration of the heart muscles, hence impaired breathing, which deprives the body of one of its greatest sources of strength and energy.

"An abundance of pure air with full deep breathing, and especially out-of-door air, is one of the first essentials of sound health and of unimpaired vitality. If this can be combined with adequate daily exercise in the open, whether it take the form of work or of play, and if the exercise is as simple even as that of walking, so that it is done regularly and with the right spirit and purpose back of it—an alert and purposeful mind—so much the better.

"Sleep is nature's great restorer—one of the great rebuilders of both mind and body. When we rob them of their required amount, we are thereby contracting bills that will present themselves for settlement sooner or later, but with our own health as the price of payment. It may seem for a while that no account is being kept—but believe me, it is."
